

THE GAMBLER

Johnson, Fenton, 1888-1958

I am a gambler. Golden are my teeth. My head is shining like a cabaret floor and my hands are gleaming with stones from the mines of Kimberly.

I am the house. Who dares defeat the house?

Good friend, throw the dice! I live by chance and chance rewards me well.